4.2.1 Library is automated using Integrated Library Management System (ILMS)

- Name of the ILMS Software   - SOUL 2.0
- Nature of Automation   - Partially
- Version   - 3.0
- Year of Automation   - 2022-23

Libraries are the primary source of information and knowledge for students, faculty and other support staff in an academic institution. Therefore, libraries must strive to satisfy their users with their services and collections. Libraries need to adopt ICT technology for better services and faster information delivery. Our academic library is partially automated using SOUL 2.0 integrated library management software and now it has updated with its latest version SOUL 3.0 in the month of October 2022.Data entry work continues. Once data entry for all books is complete and others supporting hardware's like barcode printer, barcode reader etc will available in the library, the library will be fully automated. The library has subscribed the N-LIST for access of e resources which includes e-books and e-journals. Apart from this some other important and useful web links has been given on our college website for the access of other e resources. Our library has a computer system connected to the internet for access by faculty and students. The total collection of books in the library is 21,042 which includes text books, reference books, novels, competitive examination books, motivational books and a special collection of tribal books. In addition, the library has several magazines, newspapers and news about employment.
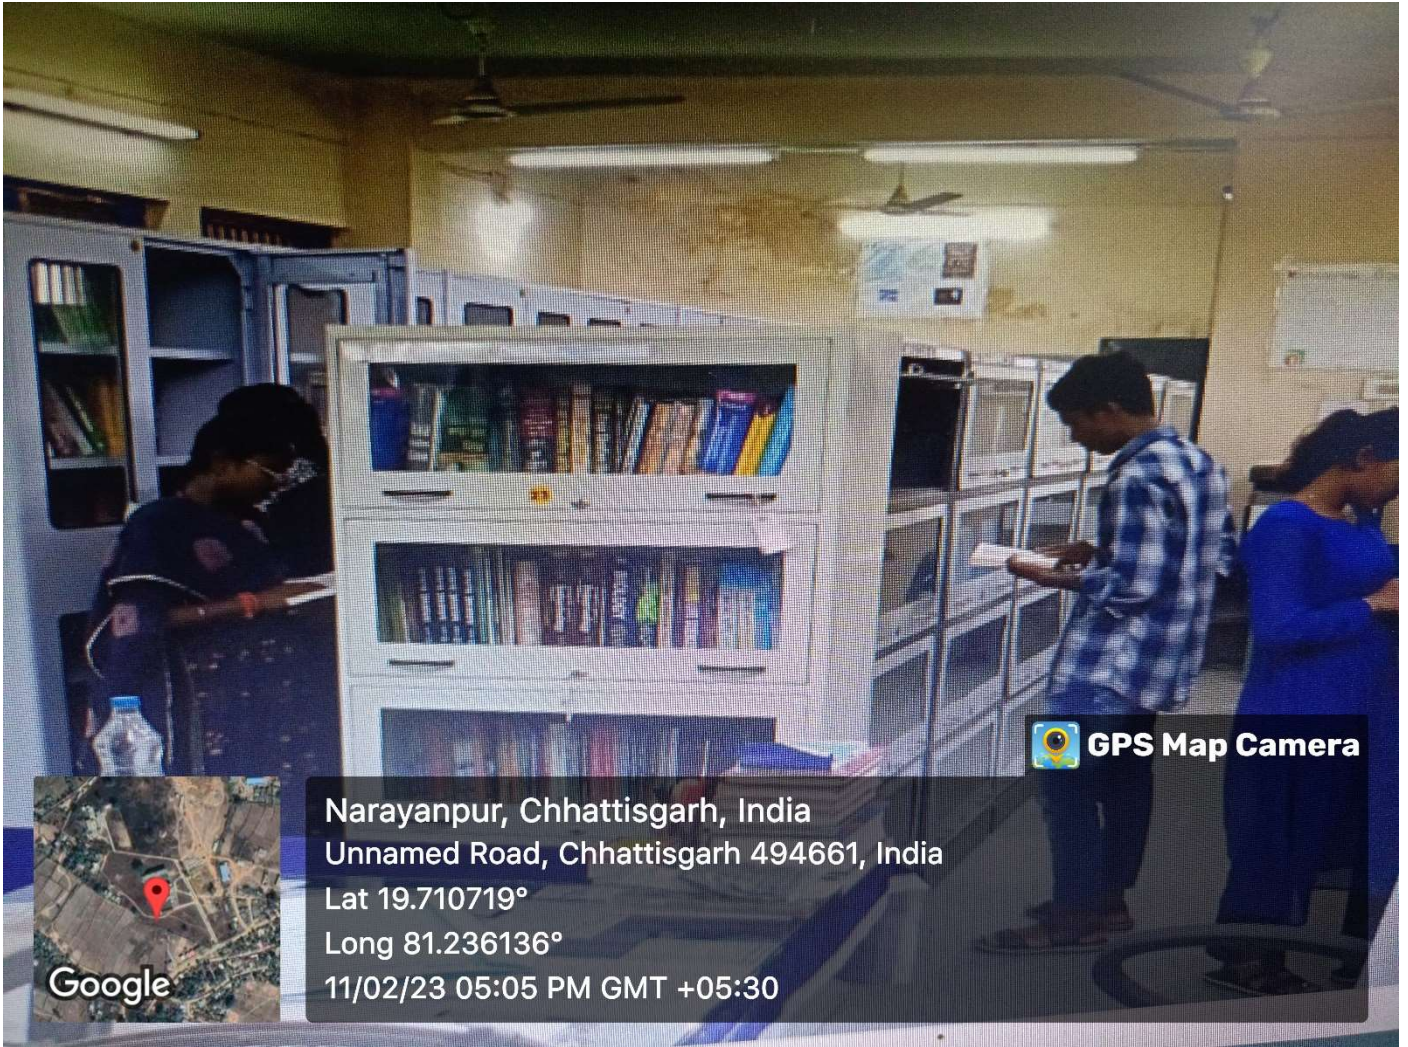

Every year in the new academic session a library orientation programme has been organized for the newly admitted students of the college in which the students get information about the basic rules, regulations, collections and services of the library. Library also organized quiz competition on different occasions and try to attract and motivate the students towards the library and its resources.
